Keysight Technologies IP Ownership for Custom Work Product and Custom Solutions Policy

Innovation and technical competence are core to Keysight's business model. To leverage our innovations and enhance our competencies, we license specifically-developed intellectual property to our customers but we retain ownership of that IP.

Our proposals and pricing are based on this model. Fees such as non-recurring engineering are applied towards staffing, facilities, research, use of our applications and technologies, and configuring Keysight existing IP to meet customer's needs.

This process enables us to innovate further and meet continuing customer needs.
